I.O.D.E. Honors Coleman Students

Two Coleman students and members of the teaching staff were guests of honor at a social evening in the Anglican hall, Blairmore on Tuesday, Oct. 14. The occasion was the acknowledgement of the I.O.D.E. poetry awards to Archie Stewart and Gloria Kroesing, of Coleman, and the 32nd anniversary of the Blairmore Chapter I.O.D.E. The Coleman students placed second and third in the poetry competition throughout the province for grades 8, 9 and 10.

Archie and Gloria recited their prize winning poems, and Mr. R. Spillers gave readings of poems composed by Coleman Junior High school students and a lecture on "Creative Writing". Principal H. Allen thanked the I.O.D.E. for their interest in education and competitions such as these, also introducing the staff members who were present.

Attending from Coleman were Archie and Gloria, Mr. Allen, Mr. Spillers, Mrs. H. Allen, Mrs. H. Muspratt, Miss Laura Johnston, Miss Myrtle Johnston, Mrs. Pauline Kroesing, and Mrs. Sophie Wojtula, of Blairmore.

A few of the Limericks read by Mr. Spillers are printed below. Mr. Spiller's remarks were that they are quite original and their themes and humor provided a few laughs for the rest of the class:

There was a young lady named Joyce
Who went for a ride in a "Royce"
She kissed the mechanic
Who fled in a panic,
Leaving Joyce to exclaim, "what a coise".

There were two poets named Crow
Who were ready to freely bestow
On every young lass
Who lives in our Pass
The keys to old satan below.

There was a lady-killer named Eddie
Whose tongue was ever so steady
That each swoony chatterbox
He would craftily outdo
And leave all their minds so unsteady.

Ladies Auxiliary B.E.S.L. Hold Meeting

We will also assist the local Legion club in the sale of poppies on Poppy Day, Nov. 8.

The ladies are also very busy packing and sewing parcels to be sent to men in the Services for Christmas. Will anyone who has a son, husband or father who joined the Services from Coleman, please leave their names and correct address at the Legion Club in Coleman. Christmas Parcels are sent to all Servicemen in Canada and abroad. Please have these names in before Nov. 8.

We also wish to remind our members that a dinner plate shower is being held during October and November. Each member is asked to donate one dinner plate in order to replenish our cupboard.

The ladies will also take part in the Nov. 11th Remembrance Day Parade and Services.

In addition to the support of the local clothing firms, hardware merchants, Gushul studio and the Blairmore Greenhouses have placed their services with the club to help present a well conducted show. At the present the property committee is busy preparing the platforms for the models, while Mrs. Arline Hill is in charge of the program music.

Everybody Enjoys a Joke

Yes everyone enjoys a joke... but let's see that no one gets hurt by it or through it.

Hallowe'en in the years past has always been a time when the children feel it is "their night to howl". Resultingly considerable damage is sometimes evidenced as a result of their pranks. It is so unnecessary and only a nuisance. It is embarrassing, inconvenient and costs money. If your children are going out this year impress upon them that a lot of fun can be had without doing damage.

CHILDREN: Hallowe'en is the time for fun, but let's be sure that no one is hurt through destruction or carelessness.

PARENTS: Try to keep your children home after dark. Stage a house party with games and lunch. It is more fun for the kids and will lessen the chance of accidents or embarrassment.

TOWN OFFICIALS: This is the kids' night. They are bound to be running up and down and across the street. Their older brothers and friends will be out that night too and in cars. Speeding here is definitely a problem and can become a tragedy with so many youngsters running around unless strict supervision on the streets and highway is carried out.

Delegates Favor Forming 6 Team Inter-Prov. League

Representatives from Coleman, Michel-Natal, Cranbrook and Kimberly met in Cranbrook on Sunday Oct. 19 to discuss the formation of an Alberta - B. C. Intermediate Hockey League.

and Coleman competing. It was suggested to operate a double schedule or twenty matches, and to recommend that all clubs compete in the league playoffs with the winners of the eastern half playing the winners of the western half for the A. B. C. League championship.

It was agreed that the B.C. clubs affiliate with the B.C.A. H.A. and that Coleman affiliate with the A.A.H.A. and that each club compete in its respective provincial playoffs.

It was arranged to call another meeting at Fernie on Sunday Nov. 2, for the purpose of completing the organization of the proposed league.

Delegates attending the meeting were favorable to the proposed league and quite enthusiastic for its formation.

Legion Ladies Hold Canvass For Wreaths

Soon the members of the ladies auxiliary, B.E.S.L. will be canvassing the business houses asking the business men to buy a poppy wreath for Remembrance Day.

Everyone is aware that poppies are made by disabled veterans and this fact alone should prove that the Poppy Campaign is a very deserving cause. The canvassing committee do not receive any remuneration whatsoever.

The B.E.S.L. asks that the business men receive the ladies with courtesy and to encourage them in their work. After all we do owe a debt to the veterans which we can never repay, and we appeal to you to buy a wreath every year.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving, just past, has become the same as Christmas and other holidays, it has lost its meaning. A day of thanksgiving for those things we take for granted has now become a day off just as any statutory holiday. With things as they stand today it would pay each and everyone of us to take stock at least once a year and truly give thanks for what we have.

Thanksgiving should be a daily practice, for we are daily receiving things to be thankful for. Life would be fuller and sweeter if the following rules were adopted by all in our daily living.

The best law . . . the Golden Rule.

The best education . . . self knowledge.

The best music . . . the laughter of a child.

The best medicine . . . cheerfulness and temperance.

The best war . . . the fight against one's own weakness.

The best science . . . extracting sunshine from a cloudy day.

The best art . . . painting a smile on the face of a child.

The best Telegraphy . . . flashing a ray of sunshine to a gloomy heart.

The best biography . . . the life that writes charity in the largest words.

The best mathematics . . . multiplying the joys and dividing the sorrows of others.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Beveridge's Trip To Scotland

It is not uncommon for a person to visit someplace for a day or a week and then express a desire to go back. However to spend four months at a place and still not have enough of it gives that place a something to boast of. Such is the case of Mr. and Mrs. A. Beveridge on their return from a holiday in Scotland. Mr. Beveridge a few weeks after his arrival back to Coleman expressed the wish that he may return again sometime soon.

Sailing from Montreal on June 13, the Beveridges made their second trip to Scotland in 30 years, arriving at and making their headquarters at Dunfermline. It was their especially good fortune to visit Scotland during the Festival week.

Noticing vast improvements in transportation and having friends with cars, the Canadian visitors were on the move daily for the four month period. Visits were made to the Clyde ship yards, Edinburgh, Falkirk, Port Glasgow, Ayre-shire, Braemar and other historic, industrial and beauty spots. Included in the many things that they saw or attended were the textile factories, soccer games, concerts, motor-cycle events, the Highland games attended by the worlds Olympic champions. The Forth Bridge, still one of the wonders of the world, Robinson Crusoe's monument, Burns Cottage provided an endless chain of beautiful and interesting excursions, and everywhere they went they received a gift.

Castles visited by the couple included Holyroodhouse, the Royal residence. Mr. and Mrs. Beveridge visited the castle and chambers. Edinburgh castle, too, impressed the visitors with its many beautiful statues and especially the shrine containing the name of every fallen soldier throughout the world. Glamis Castle home of the Queen Mother and the Palace of Linlithgow and the many other historic scenes must be seen before they could be described.

Concerts attended included the Kirkintilloch Junior Choir who are coming to Canada soon, and the Robert Wilson concert. Wilson is the man who is expected to eventually take the place of Harry Lauder.

Falkirk gave the visitors their surprise, when they encountered a chap by the name of Norton McCuaig who enquired about Jimmie Evans of Coleman. A hockey player in the English league, Mr. McCuaig had played hockey with Jimmie in California.

Impression of the people testify that taxation and rationing are a problem although they are not complaining. Employment is high with work for everyone, although greater numbers of the younger people express a desire to come to Canada, chiefly due to high taxation. Housing is progressing at a rapid pace, old buildings being torn down and replaced by new ones. Yet there is a shortage of housing.

A resident of Coleman since 1917, Mr. Beveridge, a former fireboss at McGillivray mine, they noticed many changes in their homeland of Scotland, taking four months and many miles to get a comprehensive picture, arriving home in Coleman on Sept. 30th.

JOHN ALEXANDER MacAULAY, Q.C., of Winnipeg, today was elected chairman of the XVIIIth International Red Cross Conference at Toronto. Mr. MacAulay is former chairman of the Central Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society and past president of the Manitoba Division of the Society. He served for two and a half years with the Canadian Army Medical Corps.

Crow Coalers Win and Lose In Seasons Opening Games

By D. Fraser

Coach Al Roger's Crow Coalers tucked a win and a loss into the record books at the weekend as the result of their first two games. In the season opener Wednesday night, the Pass team dropped a 7-6 verdict to the visiting Medicine Hat team, reversing the decision with a 6-3 victory over Moose Jaw Friday.

To make any predictions as to the Coalers' chances at this stage would be foolhardy, yet they are shaping into a cohesive team with a great showing of spirit. Noticeable is their centre ice play, keeping away from the trend of shooting into the corner that has been prevalent with many teams. Hockey fans expressed their liking for this brand of playing that puts more emphasis on stickhandling.

Officials handling the game have served notice that they do not intend the game to get out of hand and are calling them close. Thirty-four penalties were handed out in the first two contests. The officials are to be commended on their desire to eliminate roughness, however close calls had a tendency to slow Friday's game to a walk. With the exception of a few minutes in the first and the greater part of the third, the whistles kept the fans from any marked enthusiasm.

Vejprava and Trentini continue to be the big guns, figuring in practically all Coalers' markers, however many of the newcomers show promise of turning in impressive games as more games go by.

The Crows Nest Coalers lost a hard fought game to the Regina Pats Monday night when the game was won in 3.05 minutes overtime on a penalty shot. Vejprava put another notch in his stick when he scored in 10.04 of the first period with Nixon of the Pats replying 2.23 minutes later. The Coalers goalkeeper, Bill Lutynic, was injured by a driving shot from inside the blue line. Len Krchnak was put in and tended the net like a master throughout the rest of the game.

Both teams had many shots at the goals but only scored twice each in the first period, once each in the second and third periods ending in a tie. They played sudden death overtime which ended in 3.05 minutes with Bell of the Pats scoring on a penalty shot.

Roxy Utilizes Modern Equipment Assuring Greater Efficiency

With television threatening radio and the average person wondering what effect it will have on motion pictures columnists are using-up yards of paper debating the subject. Yet hardly anyone has taken time to acquaint themselves with complexity of operating a theatre, jumping ahead to something new without appreciating those things we have had and now take for granted.

Knowing absolutely nothing about the theatre business, the Journal contacted Ed. Somshor, determined to find out about this medium that has kept us entertained for many years.

The day of our visit, the Roxy staff were in the midst of a special show for the kiddies sponsored by the U.M.W. treat every month. While preparing for the regular show that evening, George Fisher, projectionist was busy editing the reels of "Across the Wide Missouri". 23 years of age, George was born in Canada and spent the last seven years in England. After a period of apprenticing he served as an operator for 6 years, coming to the Roxy last December. Realizing that George had not experienced a film break since Christmas we were determined to find the reason for this fine record.

Visiting the projection room we were amazed to learn that two projectors are used, carrying a twenty minute reel each. George explained that a complete show for that night utilized four single reels of 10 minutes each and 4 doubles of twenty minutes duration. The first reel is loaded in No. 1 machine and the motors started. When this machine has run nearly its entire reel, the operator moves over besides it and watches for his cue dot. This dot appears eight seconds before the end of the reel and is a signal to start the motor of the incoming machine. When the machine picks up speed a barrier is opened that releases the light and picture. This is done with a foot switch that simultaneously cuts off the No. 1 machine. Now it is time to load the first projector with another reel ready to assure a smooth running picture.

The sound track appears on the side of the film and is picked up by a photo electric cell and turned into electrical impulses that are amplified on a speaker.

All film is checked by hand and carefully scrutinized by George before entering the projector. On completion of the run it must be rewound ready for the next show.

Moving downstairs the scene became familiar, the scene that the average person applies to theatres, ticket taker, ushers, pop corn and peals of laughter from the theatre itself.

Cornerring Ed. Somshor again we discovered that besides running the show, he holds his license as an operator. Coming here from Ponoka six years ago he is assisted by Vi. Somshor who serves as cashier, Doreen Bodisch and Vienna Chernecky and Margaret handling the ushering duties, while Beatrice Gedos operate the refreshment stand.

Ed. informed us that he buys films from the five major studios and tries to pick the pictures that the general public likes best, this demanding a lot of study into the pictures available. Films are picked out usually six months ahead and booked for open dates. Special films such as "The Greatest Show on Earth" that will play here demands extra attention of the theatre manager. This film played at road show prices and hit Lethbridge in May at $1.10. Persistent dealing with the makers resulted in Coleman booking it at 75c for an October showing.

This necessary thought for the patrons, daily check for maintenance, the picking of pictures and running an interrupted film is a lot of work no matter how you look at it.

CBC OPERA COMPANY'S EVELYN GOULD

The fine voice of Evelyn Gould will be heard singing the role of Lucinda in the CBC Opera Company's November 26th presentation of "School for Fathers" by Wolf-Ferrari. This is the first year the young Toronto coloratura soprano has sung in the popular opera series, although she has been featured on many other CBC programs during the past few years. Besides entertaining millions of radio listeners from coast to coast in Canada, she has also appeared on TV in the United States and Canada on several occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Ford Feted on Departure

Coleman lost another of its active couples last week with the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ford to their new home in Vancouver.

Mr. Ford arrived in Coleman with his parents from England in 1911, received his education here and joined the staff of the McGillivray mine. He worked with this company from 1916 until his departure last week, serving for the past nine years as storekeeper. Mrs. Ford came to Coleman in 1918 from Scotland.

Active in lodge work, Mr. Ford was a member of the I.O.O.F. serving as Grand Master and district deputy recording secretary. Mrs. Ford was a member of the Rebekah order and former district deputy president. Interested in sports Mr. Ford was active in soccer from 1918 until the '30's later turning his attention to curling. Having served as both president and secretary of the curling club, he was one of the prime movers and active workers in the construction of the new rink.

A son Norman resides in Calgary and a daughter Mrs. R. Jones at Royston, Vancouver Island.

On Thanksgiving day the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges held a joint party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ford, when whilst was enjoyed. Mrs. M. Jenkins, noble grand, presented Sister Ford with a string of pearls, a token of remembrance and spoke a few words on the loss of a member that will be very hard to replace. Sister E. Bonshury spoke a few words on Mrs. Ford's long range vision in lodge matters. Bro. Gareau, noble grand, of the I.O.O.F. presented Brother Ford with the three links and emblem on behalf of the order. Both guests fittingly replied to the speakers.

Winners in the whilst were ladies, Mrs. E. Beart, 1st and Mrs. L. Fisher, 2nd; Gents, Harry Vincent 1st and Joe Jenkins 2nd.

Mrs. E. White was convener assisted by Mrs. Gladys McDonald, Mrs. L. Fisher, Mrs. Mary Jenkins and Mrs. A. Nash.

Members and old members of the Coleman Curling Club met at a banquet in the Grand Union Hotel Sat. Oct. 11 to honor Geo. Ford. J.R. Hill served as chairman, Harry Boulton presenting the guest with a matched carving set of wear- ever kitchen cutlery. W. Roughesed addressed the gathering and Bert Bond led in community singing.

Bobby Park was appointed to the office vacated by Mr. Ford and Duke Kwasnie elected secretary treasurer by acclamation.

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY!

Canada's Forest Wealth

A GREAT DEAL IS HEARD TODAY about the wealth of Canada's natural resources, and this country is indeed fortunate in possessing many of the materials essential to modern industrial development. New discoveries of oil, gas, iron and uranium here have attracted widespread attention and the progress of developing these resources is followed with great interest. We are sometimes reminded, however, that one of our resources, less spectacular perhaps than some of the others, creates more wealth for Canada than the output of all her mines, or all her crops combined. Pulpwood, which is taken annually from our forests, remains one of our richest resources and one which is of great importance to Canada's economy.

Large Tracts Of Woodland

Canada's forests cover nearly one and a half million square miles of the country, and more than one half of the land area of all the provinces is made up of forests. In comparison, only one-fourteenth of the total land area in Canada is under cultivation or useful for pasture. Even the so-called "Prairie Provinces" have large tracts of forest lands in some districts, while in British Columbia, the Central provinces and the Maritimes there are large areas of forests. Not all these woodlands are suited for lumbering. Large areas are not yet accessible by roads, and others do not have growth suitable for making lumber or pulpwood. At present some 140,000 square miles are leased to companies engaged in the making of pulp and paper, this land being situated mainly in Eastern Canada and in British Columbia.

High Losses Each Year

There has been concern in recent years regarding the depletion of our forests and much attention has been given to conserving them. However, authorities on the subject say that the average annual consumption of wood for the manufacture of pulp and paper consumes only one-fifth as many trees as do fire, insects and disease. These destructive forces account for twenty-one per cent. of the entire consumption of forest products in Canada each year and constitute a grave menace to this important source of wealth. Constant improvements are being made in methods of forestry and in the control of forces which lay waste our forest lands. Many Canadians may forget the importance of this great national asset, but a recent publication put out by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association reminds us that "the pulp and paper industry stands first in the numbers employed and wages paid, first in export trade and first as a creator of wealth for all Canadians."

WHERE EXTRA CAUTION SHOULD BE TAKEN

Every bottle and package in the medicine cupboard should be carefully labelled and, in the case of dangerous drugs, some special means of distinguishing such containers should be adopted. A band of adhesive tape around the bottle will serve as a warning that this bottle must be handled carefully. In addition, all dangerous drugs should be kept out of reach of children.

Excellent Beet Crop In Manitoba

WINNIPEG.—Several hundred Manitoba beet growers will receive a total of $1,250,000. Cheques for approximately that amount mailed by the Manitoba Sugar Company, Fort Garry, to contract growers as an initial payment for beets delivered in September.

Company officials said that the initial payment of $9.40 a ton was the "highest on record." Last year's payment was $8 a ton.

For the 1951 crop, farmers received a total of $14.30 a ton. Company officials declined to speculate on what this year's final payment would be. Quality of the crop, including purity and sugar content, was reported "considerably better than in previous years."

No Shortage Of Cars To Move Prairie Grain

EDMONTON.—Officials of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways said that they have sufficient boxcars available to move the amount of prairie grain that can be handled at the lakehead and west coast terminals.

Vice-President J. R. McMillan of the C.N.R. and Vice-President D. S. Thomson of the C.P.R., both from Winnipeg, were in Edmonton inspecting company facilities.

Mr. McMillan said his company and the C.P.R. are "hustling all the cars needed" to keep up with the terminal requirements on Prairie grain.

He said to date the terminals have been able to handle the grain no faster than the railways have been able to ship it.

Mr. McMillan said Saskatchewan and Manitoba grain is not being given priority over Alberta grain because those provinces are closer to the Lakehead, thus enabling more shipments to be made than on the longer haul.

"Grain is moved on orders of the Wheat Board and the Federal Transport Controller," Mr. McMillan said. "The quota system determines how much grain will be transferred from any given area."

Accident Total In Manitoba Increased

WINNIPEG.—Twenty-seven persons died in Manitoba during September in accidents other than traffic, W. Trevor Davies, provincial director of safety, said.

This compared with 40 fatalities in August and 19 for September, 1951. One person died in an industrial accident, eight in homes and 18 general.

Total fatalities for the nine month period were 235 compared with 229 for the same period last year.

MAGIC makes baking fine-textured, delicious!

CINNAMON SANDWICH BISCUITS

Mix and sift once, then sift into a bowl, 2 c. once-sifted pastry flour (or 1½ c. once-sifted hard-wheat flour), 3 taps. Magic Baking Powder, ½ tap, salt and ¼ c. fine granulated sugar. Cut in finely 4 the chilled shortening. Combine 1 well-beaten egg, ¼ c. milk and ½ tap, vanilla. Make a well in dry ingredients and add liquids; mix lightly with a fork, adding milk if necessary, to make a soft dough. Knead for 10 seconds on lightly-floured board and roll out to ⅜" thickness; shape with floured 1½" cutter. Cream together 1½ the soft butter or margarine, ¼ c. lightly-packed brown sugar, ½ tap, grated orange rind and ½ tap, ground cinnamon. Using only about half of the creamed mixture, place a small amount of the mixture on half of the cut-out rounds of dough, top with remaining rounds of dough and press around edges to seal. Spread biscuits with remaining creamed mixture and arrange, slightly apart, on greased cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven, 450°, about 12 minutes. Serve warm. Yield—16 biscuits.

What Is A "Natural Athlete?"

In answering this very popular question, the smart thing to do will be to get one thing settled right now and that is—every single person who was born mentally and physically sound is born a "natural" athlete. It's just a matter of that person finding the activity and the special part of that activity for which nature has suited him. The idea that certain people are born to be hockey, basketball or tennis players and so become great athletes is, to put it in popular words—"a lot of guff!"

Any psychologist will tell you that a person can't be born with skills of any type. They must be acquired through practice of the right kind. People are born only with physical and mental powers or talents that can be well adapted to certain activities. For example, a person may be born with the type of body that is an ideal type for swimming and another person may be born with the type of body that is perfect for running the half mile. What causes trouble is that you will so often find a person with a body very suitable for swimming trying to run the half mile and the person with the half mile type of body trying to be a distance swimmer or a shot putter.

No matter whether you are playing the game for competitive fame or just for the fun of it, the best plan is to test yourself carefully so that you find out the game and the part of that particular game for which you are best suited by nature. So remember, everyone is born a "natural" athlete! All you have to do is find the spot that nature has reserved for you. The great athlete is made when he selects the game for which he is best suited, and then uses all the other secrets of success—he is never born a great athlete!

The Importance

Of the Placement Kick

In practically every game the average team has a chance to score 21 points from "place" kicks alone! However, they rarely do so because for one thing they rarely try to score with a "placement" and the average team hasn't got a good "place" kicker who can get the ball over the bar with any regularity. Another point to remember is that an average of half the touchdowns are never converted.

So take a tip and improve your chances of making the team by getting in extra sessions of "place" kicking. It could easily be the difference in a tight game.

How To Treat a Stitch!

Medical experts claim the most logical cause of a stitch is the formation of intestinal gas.

Most stitches will go away if you continue what you are doing but sometimes the stitch is so severe that it becomes more and more painful until you can't stand it. When this happens the best thing to do is to stop and raise the arm on the side on which you have the stitch. Really stretch it upwards. Rubbing and massaging and bending at the waist also helps.

Remember, a stitch in the side is not a serious ailment. Always try to keep going as hard as you can.

The Hockey Handbook, the first really comprehensive book ever written about ice hockey, is a must for all hockey players. It is packed full of the latest information on techniques, skill development and the coaching of hockey.

Weekly Tip

DRIVING NAILS

Nails can be driven into hard wood without difficulty if the nails are dipped into oil or grease, or the points are rubbed over a cake of soap. This also applies to screws.

On The Side : E. V. Durling

Am constantly hearing from harassed wives suffering from snoring husbands. Now and then I hear from a subscriber who is kept awake by a snoring wife. Consequently I am always on the lookout for snoring cures. Here is one I heard of that is easy to check. The person afflicted with snoring lies flat on his back for ten minutes every night when retiring. During that period he engages in deep breathing. As he fills his lungs with air, he draws in his stomach. This exercise is claimed to have cured many a habitual snorer.

Medical Charm

Are you in love with a registered nurse, young fellow? If so, you may expect to have a dangerous rival in some young doctor. Practically all nurses fall in love with doctors. The more beautiful the nurse, the more beautiful she falls.

Supreme Test

Have just heard of a man who had two teeth knocked out when he was a boy. He picked the teeth up and brought them home. His grandfather, a physician, promptly put the teeth back in his grandson's mouth. They are still firmly embedded there today, 30 years later. Not only that, their possessor can crack walnuts with them. So, who says teeth can't be replanted or transplanted?

Feminine Superiority

Physically the female is the superior sex. That I am prepared to admit. As to their mental superiority, I am holding that open for discussion. Let us consider the angle of physical endurance at this session. I have on hand a communication from a feminine subscriber who says she is employed as a telephone operator and works a full five-day week as such. She is married and has three daughters aged nine, ten and fifteen. She makes all her own dresses and all those of her daughters. She does all her own housework, including cooking, washing, ironing, cleaning, etc. Imagine the physical endurance necessary to handle a working schedule like that. I doubt if there is a man alive who could stand it.

Subtle Distinction

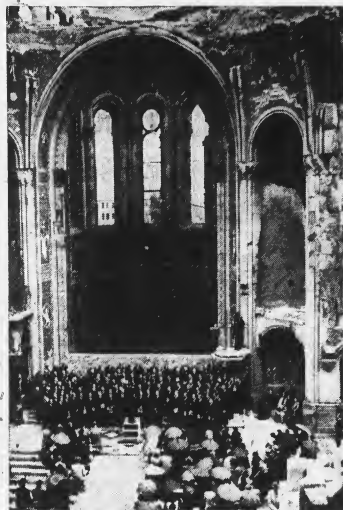

Fellow I know refers to his wife as the "management". She doesn't care for the idea, but says: "At least it is better than being called the ball and chain."

Beauty and Brains, Too

A brown-eyed honey blonde bacteriologist, with a degree in science, has won 50 beauty contests, including one for the title of Miss Britain. How is that for a combination of beauty and brains? She is Aileen Chase of Sussex, England. Following her being named Miss Britain, she was asked if that was not the greatest thrill of her life. She said it wasn't. Her greatest thrill was when she was made secretary of the Sussex branch of the Institute of Medical Technology.

"Mink Owner Preferred"

Have a letter signed "Three Smart Girls". It is from a trio of young business women in Manhattan. They say they decided to take measurements together because they are all the same size, have exactly the same measurements. So they wear each others clothes, giving them all additional outfit. Seems a brilliant idea. Perhaps young women inserting advertisements should take to share apartments with other young women should include a line reading: "Please state measurements and extent of wardrobe." Or something to that effect.

CHURCHGOERS BRING THEIR OWN ROOFS—A view of the interior of the Kaiser Wilhelm-Gedächtnis church in Berlin, during the choir music concert held to raise funds for rebuilding the church. The building was bombed out during the war and it has no roof. Hence, Berliners who braved the rain to respond to the appeal for funds brought along their umbrellas.—Central Press Canadian.

Operation Of Small Hospitals Is Big Problem

SASKATOON. — President J. A. Vopni of the Davidson, Sask., union hospital said serious consideration should be given to the increasing problems of operating small hospitals in the province.

He told the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Hospital association that small hospitals often are converted residences, few have adequate facilities for nurses, many lack advanced technical equipment and it is often difficult to obtain first-class personnel.

The cost of a small hospital would provide excellent ambulance service to a larger centre, he said.

Partridge Came To Breakfast And Stayed For Dinner

ALMONTE. — A partridge came for breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McIntosh here — but didn't reckon on staying for dinner. The McIntosh family was startled one morning recently by the crash of glass.

On investigating they found a fair-sized partridge lying on the dining room table. As well as smashing a pane in the dining room window, the bird tore the curtains before thudding down on the table with a broken neck.

This was the second partridge to mistake a window for the wide open spaces in one week.

Horses Trained To Cut Out Selected Animals From Herd

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. — Horses that can "cut" selected animals from a herd of cattle may become an addition to Alberta ranches.

A "cutting" horse display was put on this year at several Alberta stampedes and the event may be staged as a permanent part of all rodeos.

In a cutting horse event, the horse is ridden into a herd of cattle. The rider indicates the animal to be separated. From then on the horse takes over.

The special display at Alberta stampedes was put on by Bill and Betty Simon of Tucson, Ariz.

It takes up to three years to train a champion cutting horse and the task of choosing which horses are to be trained is the most difficult part of the job.

Some of the characteristics of a good cutting horse can be inherited, Simon says.

Simon values the two cutting horses he brought to the Alberta stampedes at $5,000 each.

MEMORIES OF BEAUTY

Rich has been the harvest, of field, vine, and tree.

The flowers and the grasses have thrived abundantly.

Through all the months of summer rare beauty had held sway.

And, now as autumn lingers, traces of fairness stay.

The asters in their glory — pansies and daisies too.

Grace walks and garden pathways in brilliant warming hue.

Beyond the yellow stubble short close of golden grain.

The poplars and the maples are brightly clothed again.

Yes, brief may be this beauty; short-lived the warm clear days.

The flowers soon may perish along the garden ways.

The trees may lose their splendour; the sky its smiling grace.

And for a time October of beauty may have no trace.

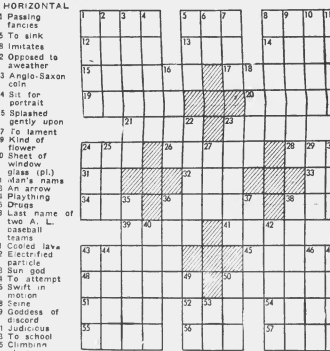

Yet, while in preparation for the earth's long time of rest.

Each day will have its bright times; each night with leisure blest.

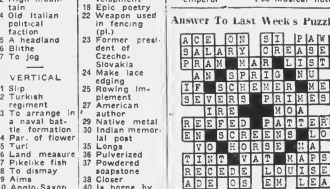

As winter's blackness binds all with ice and snow.

These memories of beauty will sustain us as we go.

Decision To Extend Cattle Price Program

OTTAWA. — The Agriculture Department has decided to extend its cattle price-support program to low-grade manufacturing beef. A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Agricultural Prices Support Board, said.

The new extension, he said, went into effect recently and provided a federal offer to pay between 10 and 12 cents a pound to farmers shipping cattle which normally are not good enough for high-grade carcass trade.

The beef from medium and common carcasses in the grades D1, covering thin steers and heifers; D3, plain cows; and bulls and stags, will be purchased in boneless form and will be stored until the government can find some way to dispose of it.

Mr. Shaw said this type of beef can be used for manufacturing sausage and other beef products. The government would have no trouble eventually disposing of it.

This was the second extension to the new cattle price-support program announced by the government. Originally, the Agriculture Department ordered purchases only of carcasses weighing 700 pounds and over, paying 25 cents a pound, basis good steers at Toronto. The price will drop to 23 cents Nov. 15.

The department also ordered purchases of a limited amount of carcasses weighing below 700 pounds, but not below 600, paying a floor price of 23 cents a pound, again basis good steers at Toronto.

There still is no indication when the department plans to cover other categories of beef with federal price support.

Mr. Shaw said it would depend on market conditions. At the moment, he said, the market is stiffening with beef prices strengthening.
